

Sean M. Sullivan, Associate, Williams Mullen

Sean Sullivan is an associate in Williams Mullen's environmental section. His practice involves auditing and compliance counseling regarding all of the major federal environmental statutes, due diligence and permit transfers for corporate transactions, and judicial review of federal agency actions and rulemakings. Mr. Sullivan also represents clients involved in toxic tort litigation as well as CERCLA information requests, response actions, and cost recovery actions.

Mr. Sullivan is licensed to practice in the District of Columbia, Florida, North Carolina and Virginia and before the U.S. Supreme Court. He is a member of the Section on Natural Resources and Environment of the American Bar Association and serves as vice-chair of the ABA's Committee on Pesticides, Chemical Regulation and Right to Know. In addition, Mr. Sullivan is active in the Florida State Society and serves as vice president of the D.C. Canes (the University of Miami Alumni Association). Mr. Sullivan received his juris doctor, cum laude, from American University's Washington College of Law in 2001. While in law school, Mr. Sullivan served as recent developments editor of the Administrative Law Review and assistant director of the Moot Court Board. He was a dean's fellow of the National Equal Justice Library and a judicial intern to the Honorable Joan Zeldon of the D.C. Superior Court. Mr. Sullivan received his bachelor of science degree in environmental science, with honors, from the University of Miami in 1998.